BOISE STATE UNIVERSITY

SATURDAY, MAY 18, 2013

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Welcome to Boise State University's 2013 Spring Commencement. This ceremony, in your honor, is our University's finest hour. Your years of hard work and dedication have paid off. The challenges set before you have been met after enduring countless late nights, lectures and exams. Another impressive class of Broncos is ready to make its mark on the world.

To the graduates, we are very proud of you and your accomplishments, and we are committed to continually improving the academic profile of Boise State to ensure that you take pride in your alma mater. Boise State University is on the map and on the move. The value of the degree you will receive today will grow along with our reputation as a metropolitan research university of distinction.

To the loved ones of the graduates, take pride in the accomplishments being recognized today given the supporting role you have played in the lives of our graduates. Without your love and support, this celebration may not have been possible at all.

Finally, let us all remember that learning does not stop with graduation. The noble, lifelong pursuit of knowledge, enrichment and enlightenment is critical to a full and meaningful life.

Thank you for placing your trust in Boise State University for your higher education aspirations. On behalf of the faculty, alumni, staff and students, let me be the first to offer a heartfelt congratulations and best wishes for a bright future.

Go Broncos!

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Bob Kustra", with a stylized flourish extending to the right.

Bob Kustra
President

BOISE STATE UNIVERSITY

Boise State University is a public, metropolitan research university offering an array of undergraduate and graduate degrees and experiences that foster student success, lifelong learning, community engagement, innovation and creativity. Research and creative activity advance new knowledge and benefit students, the community, the state and the nation. As an integral part of its metropolitan environment the university is engaged in professional and continuing education programming, policy issues, and promoting the region's economic vitality and cultural enrichment.

Boise State University aspires to be a research university known for the finest undergraduate education in the region, and outstanding research and graduate programs. With its exceptional faculty, staff and student body, and its location in the heart of a thriving metropolitan area, the university will be viewed as an engine that drives the Idaho economy, providing significant return on public investment.

Four Core Themes have been established to achieve the goals and mission of the university. These are:

- Undergraduate Education. Our university provides access to high quality undergraduate education that cultivates the personal and professional growth of our students and meets the educational needs of our community, state, and nation. We engage our students and focus on their success.
- Graduate Education. Our university provides access to graduate education that addresses the needs of our region, is meaningful in a global context, is respected for its high quality, and is delivered within a supportive graduate culture.
- Research and Creative Activity. Through our endeavors in basic and applied research and in creative activity, our researchers, artists, and students create knowledge and understanding of our world and of ourselves, and transfer that knowledge to provide societal, economic, and cultural benefits. Students are integral to our faculty research and creative activity.
- Community Commitment. The university is a vital part of the community, and our commitment to the community extends beyond our educational programs, research, and creative activity. We collaborate in the development of partnerships that address community and university issues. The community and university share knowledge and expertise with each other. We look to the community to inform our goals, actions, and measures of success. We work with the community to create a rich mix of culture, learning experiences, and entertainment that educates and enriches the lives of our citizens. Our campus culture and climate promote civility, inclusivity and collegiality.

With an enrollment of nearly 20,000 students, Boise State is a progressive learning-oriented, student focused university dedicated to excellence in teaching, innovative research, leadership development and community service. These students are benefiting from a renewed emphasis on the undergraduate experience and reaching graduation day better prepared for the challenges of the 21st century.

STUDENT SPEAKER

JOSHUA WATKINS, of Kuna, ID, is graduating with honors, earning dual degrees in Political Science and Communication, with a minor in English.

Graduating in four years with a 3.906 GPA, Watkins is recognized by his faculty as an extraordinary scholar. He is a member of the Lambda Pi Eta National Honor Society for Communication Studies and is highly regarded for his research, which he's presented at national conferences.

As a member of Boise State's Talkin' Broncos national champion speech and debate team, Watkins has an impressive list of awards in multiple formats of debate and in every genre of individual speaking. He is the only two-time winner of the Northwest Forensic Conference's prestigious "Coaches' Commemorative Award." He was the first forensic competitor to win both the Singletary Outstanding Debator trophy and the R.D. Mahaffey Outstanding Speaker award at Linfield College's Mahaffey Invitational Tournament.

Watkins has been honored for his dedication to community service, earning the Boise State Frank Church Institute Public Service Award. He has volunteered his time with the American Heart Association, the Idaho Food Bank and American Cancer Society and was a news intern with Boise State Public Radio. He has served as a judge and mentor to local high school speech and debate teams and currently is acting as the assistant coach for novice and advanced speech and debate teams for three local high schools.

"His willingness to take an active role in making our campus and the larger community better places has naturally led to a number of leadership roles for Josh," said Rick Moore, an associate professor and department chair in communication and one of three faculty members to nominate Watkins as the student speaker for commencement.

Following graduation, Watkins will pursue a masters program in politics and communication at the London School of Economics in England, with future plans to obtain a Ph.D. in mass communication. His dream is to be a professor of media studies, perhaps back here at Boise State.

"It is precisely because of my experience at Boise State University that I have been honored with such an opportunity to continue my education," said Watkins. "For four years, my time at Boise State has been filled with professors that have invested their time in me, organizations that have helped me develop as an academic and activities that shaped who I am today."

TOP TEN SCHOLARS

Top Ten Scholars are chosen from among the top 10 percent of Boise State's graduating class of more than 3,000 students for 2012-13. They are selected based on academic performance, recommendation from college deans, and extracurricular and research activities.

Each student also honors a Boise State professor who was particularly influential to his or her success.

This year's award winners, in alphabetical order, and their honored professors are:

ALYSSA BABCOCK, originally from Palmer, Alaska, is an athletic training major. For the past two years she has been a committed student in the Athletic Training Program, which requires rigorous hours spent in both the clinical and academic setting learning about the prevention, immediate care, treatment and rehabilitation of athletic injuries. She currently is president of the Student Athletic Trainers' Association. Along with two of her peers, she recently presented a winning case study called "An Unexpected ACLR: From the Athletic Training Students' Perspective," at the Annual Northwest Athletic Trainers' Association's District 10 meeting held in Boise. In summer 2012, she volunteered at a gymnastics club in Alaska and used her knowledge to provide better strengthening and prevention techniques to the competitive gymnasts. In addition to the demanding schedule of an athletic training student, she has volunteered at a local church in Boise as a seventh-grade girls' youth group leader since August 2011. She plans to attend graduate school this fall to continue her education by earning a master's degree in kinesiology with an emphasis in exercise science, alongside an athletic training internship in a clinical outreach setting in Alaska.

Babcock's honored faculty member is John McChesney, associate professor of kinesiology.

ELIZABETH BRUNELLE, from Twin Falls, has been the recipient of several music scholarships including the Mel Shelton Concert Band Scholarship, Gene Harris Scholarship, Harf Music Scholarship, and Blue Thunder Marching Band Scholarship. A member of the Honors College, she also was accepted into the National Society of Leadership and Success, the National Society for Collegiate Scholars and Phi Kappa Phi. With a course load of approximately 20 credits per semester, she still managed to participate in up to six music ensembles playing trombone and violin. In 2012, she performed with two ensembles at the esteemed All-Northwest and College Band Directors National Association music education conferences. Brunelle has been active in the public schools as a student teacher intern. She was nominated for the Outstanding Service Learning Student Leader Award for her work as a tutor at Borah High School in the Bridge Program, working with refugee students in an English language development class. As a member of the National Association for Music Education (NAfME) collegiate student organization, she represented Boise State at two All-State and two All-Northwest professional conferences. To gain more leadership experience, she went through an extensive audition and interview process to be appointed a Blue Thunder drum major. Brunelle plans to continue to teach and perform, and also pursue a doctorate in music.

Brunelle's honored faculty member is Marcellus Brown, associate professor of music.

MARIANNA BUDNIKOVA, from Podolsk, Russia, is a computer science major with a German minor. She is working with Tim Andersen on a National Science Foundation bioinformatics project to automate a search for models of planaria worm regeneration using a process based on a genetic algorithm search. At the High Performance Simulation Lab, she researched and implemented a program to compute distance fields for 3D Cartesian meshes with known close distances to object surfaces in the mesh. She presented a talk on this topic at NASA Day at Boise State. In 2010, she was nominated for Student Employee of the Year for her outstanding work at the International Admissions Office. She is the founder and chair of the Boise State chapter of the Association for Computing Machinery Women, which empowers and encourages women to pursue studies in computer science. Along with two other computer science students, Budnikova won an award for Best Native App at the second annual Bronco Appathon, a 48-hour competition to build mobile applications. The app notifies students of their class times and shows them the route to the classroom. She is a recipient of several scholarships, including the Symantec Scholarship, Keynetics Inc. Scholarship, Trang Doan Memorial Scholarship, Department of Computer Science Scholarship, Hutchinson Computer Science Scholarship and a Future Leaders Exchange (FLEX) Scholarship from the U.S. Department of State. She will intern at GE Healthcare's Edison Early Identification Program this summer and will pursue a master's in computer science at Boise State beginning this fall.

Budnikova's honored faculty member is Tim Andersen, associate professor of computer science.

NICK GAUDIOSO, from Boise, will graduate from the Honors College with a bachelor of business administration in accountancy and finance. He currently is a research assistant for the Accountancy Department and works with professor Michael Lee to develop cost accounting systems for local companies. He has conducted various research projects at Boise State and co-wrote two articles discussing growth analysis that were featured in the Idaho Statesman. As part of his research, he has worked with PKG Solutions and other companies to improve their costing systems. During his junior year, he had the opportunity to represent Boise State in the KPMG/Seattle University Accounting Competition and in 2011 participated in an Eide Bailly summer leadership program. Gaudio also has been active on campus as the vice president, budget director and student funding board officer for ASBSU, and he served on the Boise State Executive Budget Committee, the Student Media Board, the Scholarship Committee, the Bookstore Advisory Board, the Homecoming Committee and the Honors Student Advisory Board. Gaudio also participated in the Honors Student Association as treasurer and vice president. He is the recipient of many awards, including the Joseph Hutchinson Memorial Scholarship, the Roger Martell Endowment Scholarship and the Don Day Honors Business Scholarship. Gaudio's study abroad in San Sebastián, Spain, in the summer of 2012 is representative of his dedication to pursuing new and challenging adventures. Upon graduation, he will continue to expand his knowledge of accounting in graduate school, with a focus in managerial accounting.

Gaudio's honored faculty member is Michael Lee, assistant professor of accountancy.

MAKALA KNUTSON, from Boise, is a first-generation student majoring in both sociology and psychology. As a member of the Intermountain Social Research Lab, under the direction of Arthur Scarritt, Knutson conducted intensive sociological research on the experiences of students facing the financial crisis. She presented this research at both the Pacific Sociological Association Conference in San Diego and at the Boise State University Research and Scholarship Conference. In 2011, she was honored with the Scheffer Sociology Endowed Scholarship and the J.T. Osborne Scholarship. She became the president of the Boise State Sociology Club a year later. That summer, under the passionate guidance of Bonnie Kenaley of the School of Social Work, Knutson worked with seven other students to create the first annual Healing Hearts Camp, a bereavement camp for Treasure Valley children between the ages of 6 and 11. Inspired by her experiences with these children, she independently traveled to Mbabane, Swaziland, where she did similar bereavement work at the Sandra Lee Centre, a home for 28 orphaned children. In addition to these grief workshops, she taught at the Sandra Lee Centre preschool, tutored elementary-age students after school and volunteered at the Mbabane Government Hospital. At home, she dedicates her time to working with at-risk youth as a youth specialist at the Hays Shelter Home. She is awaiting the final decision on a U.S. Fulbright Fellowship to return to Swaziland for 10 months of research at the end of this year.

Knutson's honored faculty member is Arthur Scarritt, assistant professor of sociology.

NGOC LUONG, from Vietnam, is an electrical engineering major with a computer science minor. He worked as a research assistant with the Nanoscale Materials and Device Group for two years in the photonics lab, studying novel properties of nanoscale plasmonics devices, using tools such as ultrafast laser and darkfield microscopy. He has presented his work in a peer-review scientific journal publication and at the 2012 ACS conference. Luong is the president of the IEEE club and vice president of Tau Beta Pi. He has organized many club activities including a programming contest, company tours, technical tutorials, alumni talks, study sessions, and career and social events. In addition, he has been actively involved with community activities, including Discover Engineering Day, First Robotic competition, STEM Exploration Day, and the MindSet program. After graduating from Boise State, Luong will pursue a Ph.D. in electrical engineering at University of California, San Diego.

Luong's honored faculty member is Wan Kuang, associate professor of electrical and computer engineering.

FARHAD MANGAL, was born in Afghanistan but raised in many countries, including India and Pakistan, where he graduated from high school. In addition to his native language of Pashto, he speaks Dari/Farsi, Urdu, Hindi and English. After teaching English as a second language for many years, he found a position at the United Nation High Commissioner for Refugees working with Afghan refugees living in Pakistan. This experience spurred him to continue his education in America, with the goal of becoming a physician and returning to his home country to assist in underserved areas. At Boise State he has gained hands-on research experience in Cheryl Jorcyk's cancer research lab investigating the role of OSM on breast cancer and metastasis, and in Raj Nagarajan's biochemistry research lab as part of an organic chemistry team working on chemical synthesis. His passion for teaching and helping other students translated into a position as a math tutor at the math drop-in center. He later began tutoring all subjects including biology, chemistry, organic chemistry and physics through the student Success Program office, and has volunteered at the Boise VA hospital, reinforcing his dream of becoming an emergency room physician.

Mangal's honored faculty member is Rajesh Nagarajan, assistant professor of chemistry.

SARA PALMA, from Boise, is a double-degree graduate in nursing and Spanish. In addition to her research in conjunction with Central District Health Department and St. Luke's, she has presented posters at the Western Institute of Nursing Research Conference in Portland, Ore., the Boise VA Medical Center Nursing Research Day and at St. Luke's Nursing Research Fellowship Celebration for her work with the Healthy U CoPartner Program. She recently completed a manuscript for her study about intramuscular injection failure in overweight and obese patients. Palma was a student representative at Friends of Nursing fundraising and strategic planning events and also worked as a peer advisor in the College of Health Sciences during her junior and senior years. She has completed more than 300 hours of volunteer service at the Boise VA Medical Center in the emergency department and intensive care unit. In addition to studying for a semester in San Juan, Puerto Rico, in spring 2010 she spent a semester in China as a volunteer English teacher, and a month volunteering in a rural primary health clinic in Panama. Palma currently is working as a registered nurse to gain experience before applying to advanced practice degree programs. She plans to continue to participate in research and volunteer work.

Palma's honored faculty member is Pam Strohfus, assistant professor of nursing.

MASON SHAW, from Idaho Falls, has a double major in Spanish and nursing. He loves traveling the world, making new friends and learning about other cultures. An adrenaline junky, when not studying he often can be found whitewater kayaking, skiing, downhill mountain biking and rock climbing. After participating in the National Student Exchange program in Keene State, New Hampshire, his desire to explore the cultures of the world consumed him and he postponed his nursing studies to live in Heredia, Costa Rica, for a year and become fluent in Spanish. Working hard to maintain his language skills, he holds a certificate as a Spanish medical interpreter. With a passion for helping others, he has enjoyed his experiences as a student nurse and aspires to work as a neonatal intensive care registered nurse in order to care for infants and families in serious times of need. Shaw has received many scholarships throughout his education and hopes to contribute to study abroad and nursing scholarship funds in order to help others achieve their goals of traveling the world and helping others.

Shaw's honored faculty member is Steven (Monk) Wells, adjunct instructor in English and multicultural student services support coordinator.

NIKKI A. WEIHE, from Boise, is a McNair Scholar majoring in criminal justice and sociology. Her state-approved prison research explores possible explanations for prison violence. Weihe presented at several symposia, including at the University of Washington and U.C. Berkeley, and in February 2013 presented findings at Ronald E. McNair's alma mater, North Carolina A&T University. She also has presented papers at conferences in the U.S. and Canada for Alpha Phi Sigma, the national criminal justice honor society. She was the research assistant for sociology professor Michael Blain, and teaching assistant and guest lecturer for several undergraduate classes. In addition to tutoring Boise State students in the Student Success Program, she teaches ESL classes off campus for service learning. She also enjoyed an extensive internship at ACLU of Idaho. For nearly 11 years, she has volunteered weekly at a women's prison, facilitating a spiritual yoga program she created. In March 2013, she received the Abraham Lincoln Fellowship from the University of Illinois at Chicago, and is leaving Idaho to earn a Ph.D. in criminology, law and justice.

Weihe's honored faculty member is Andrew Giacomazzi, professor of criminal justice and associate dean in the College of Social Sciences and Public Affairs.

DISTINGUISHED PROFESSORS

This title constitutes the highest honor Boise State University can bestow on its faculty members.

The honor is reserved for a very small number of faculty who were selected for their major contributions to their academic disciplines and for their promise of future achievement.

Marc Bechard
Biological Sciences

Dr. Marc Bechard has an international reputation and is recognized as a leading raptor biologist nationally and internationally. He founded several Birds of Prey conservation programs in Argentina, Spain, Peru and Kenya. He has led the effort to protect endangered falcon and eagle species here and abroad. Dr. Bechard's research has led to policy changes in Argentina and Columbia, addressing pesticide use and fish farming practices that were directly endangering Swainson's Hawks and Osprey. His research takes him to several other international sites including Israel to conduct research on the migratory behavior of Levant Sparrowhawks, Turkey and the Republic of Georgia to study Honey Buzzards and Black Kites. He has maintained an extremely productive research program, bringing in 58 grants totaling more than a million dollars in funding. Dr. Bechard's research has resulted in over 65 peer-reviewed publications in scientific journals and over 110 presentations at scientific meetings and many more technical reports to state, federal and international agencies, and conservation groups. He has served as associate chair of the Biology Department and Editor-in-chief for the Journal of Raptor Research. He has mentored over 40 graduate students in research since his arrival at Boise State in 1983.

Darryl Butt
Materials Science and Engineering

Dr. Butt is nationally and internationally recognized as one of the leading materials scientists working in the area of materials for extreme environments and energy studies. Dr. Butt established the Materials Corrosion and Environmental Effects Laboratory at Los Alamos National Laboratory. He became the Project Leader for Weapons Dismantlement and Fissile Materials Transparency and oversaw the Russian-US lab-to-lab technical interactions in nuclear non-proliferation. He has mentored 34 graduate students and maintained an active research program, bringing in $6 million as PI and $4 million as Co-PI. Dr. Butt's publication record is outstanding with 180 peer-reviewed journal articles, book chapters, and proceedings. He has served as chair for Materials Science and Engineering and the Associate Director for the Center for Advanced Energy Studies, among many other noteworthy accomplishments since joining the faculty at Boise State in 2005.

CEREMONIAL TRADITIONS

The Commencement exercise is a fitting conclusion to a successful academic career and earning of a university degree. The ceremony is based on 800 years of academic tradition handed down from European universities of the Middle Ages. Commencement ceremonies, with their academic gowns, mortarboards, tassels, hoods and maces, are colorful, festive and dignified. It is a ceremony to recognize the successes of the University and the students who merit degrees.

ACADEMIC PROCESSION

The academic procession is a featured part of the commencement program – a symbolic declaration that all members of the academic community are bound by a common purpose and shared commitment to the ideals of higher education, including the search for meaning, truth and understanding.

The presidential party – the president, the provost, the vice presidents, and deans – is led by a mace bearer, who is a faculty member and the president of the faculty senate.

THE MACE

The mace, generally made of wood and clad in metal, was used as a weapon during the Middle Ages. The mace has evolved into a symbol of authority and is carried at commencement and at ceremonies where honors or degrees are to be awarded.

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

The caps, gowns, and hoods in the processional are symbolic of the Middle Ages. Because universities developed from church schools, both faculty and students were regarded as part of the clergy and wore clerical clothing based on monastic dress.

The traditional hat developed from the skull cap worn in cold weather. In Europe, a bonnet with tassel is still worn, but in America it has been replaced by the mortarboard cap or tam with tassel. The bachelor's gown, with its long, pointed sleeves, is worn closed. The master's gown has an oblong sleeve open at the wrist; the rear section is square cut. The doctor's gown often was furred, a decoration that survives today as the velvet on the front and sleeves.

The tassel colors seen in the processional correspond to the field of study.

THE ACADEMIC HOOD

The academic hood was originally worn over the head in bad weather. Now, it is added to the apparel of those who earn master's and doctoral degrees.

The colors on the hoods represent two things: the wearer's Alma Mater and the department of learning. The silk lining is in the colors of the college or university granting the degree. The velvet trim is the color that represents the departments of learning in which the degree was obtained.

The academic hood, presented by Boise State University's Graduate College, displays a blue and orange chevron, denoting the University's colors. The color of the velvet border represents the field of study in which the degree is awarded.
